

MESSAGE REGARDING STUDENT NOTES

Beginning with this issue of Law & Contemporary Problems, student notes will be published as freestanding works of scholarship. The Editorial Board no longer requires that Notes be related to a recent symposium. The following section contains a Note that has been selected by the student editors of Law & Contemporary Problems. It is not part of the symposium. The special editors of this issue played no part in reviewing, selecting, or editing it. This Note has been included in this issue for publication purposes only.
